

Keep your distance!

That's the closest you should be to the people around you.

Social distancing saves lives.